International Meeting

Capire Report to the 12th International Meeting

Capire is a communication tool, an online space for the production and dissemination of content to increase the visibility of grassroots feminism at the international level. It has as reference the struggles and analysis of the organizations that are members of the WMW, as well as the movements that are our international and local allies. We seek to disseminate in a broad way our feminist, anti-racist and anti-capitalist perspective, our responses and reflections from the popular movements.

In this report we share the Capire process in 2021, with an overview of what has been done so far in terms of content and articulation.

Process and dynamics of functioning

Capire's proposal is inserted in the axis of strategic building of the movement and is part of the project Fortaleciendo os Feminismos Populares (the same project of the International School of Feminist Organization in which the WMW, GGJ, IEN and GRI participate).

Capire operates from Brazil, with a team at SOF. The team is formed by Bianca Tenório, Danica Machado, Helena Zelic and Tica Moreno, and is also accompanied by Nalu Faria from the International Committee and Natalia Blanco from the WMW international communication. Capire is linked to the strategic building of the movement, but does not replace the institutional communication of the World March of Women. It complements and strengthens it.

For the launching of Capire, meetings were held with members of the IC and IS of the WMW, with Via Campesina and Friends of the Earth. After the launch (January 6, 2021), we sought contacts with WMW representatives from all regions to discuss content indications based on each reality. A meeting was held in February 2021 with the participation of WMW sisters from Palestine, Venezuela, Galicia, Mozambique, Quebec, Turkey, Cuba, Brazil, Kenya, Zimbabwe, Lebanon, Via Campesina and FoEI. From there, Capire has been building a network of contacts that nourishes its contents and that is fundamental, as well as the Capire team is attentive to the agendas of the WMW and allied movements to produce the contents.

Capire produces and publishes both text and audiovisual content. They are interviews, analysis texts, stories of experience and struggles of the movements, culture and multimedia. We have the capacity to produce and publish an average of 3 contents per week. One strategy to amplify the voices in Capire has been to transcribe interventions of sisters in webinars organized by our movements.

LINGUISTIC JUSTICE

All content is translated into Spanish, French, English and Portuguese. After the meeting with representatives of the regions, we set ourselves the challenge of publishing some contents in Arabic and translated from Arabic, and we have done it on average once a month. These contents come from our sisters in the MENA region and from what they have published in their regional blog. One challenge is to translate some strategic contents from other languages into Arabic.

WEBINARS

In order to create spaces for debate and dissemination of our perspectives, analysis and political positions, we have organized 4 international webinars together with the WMW. After the webinars, we transform the interventions into texts and audios. The webinars are spaces for the construction of reflection and deepening of debates, and allow us to broaden our alliances. We can take more advantage of these spaces for the WMW strategic building.

PUBLICATIONS

CHALLENGES

Expand the balance between regions: We invite all WMW sisters, especially those from the NCB who have never published in Capire: please contact us so that we can think together about a strategy to produce content 😊 > info@capiremov.org

Articulate more between Capire and the representations of the regions so that the publications articulated with women in countries where there is no WMW NCB can advance for more organization and growth of the WMW.
